DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is in response to Applicant's amendment filed on October 18, 2004. The rejections cited are as stated below:

Response to Applicant's amendment

2. Applicants' amendment filed on October 18, 2004 have been fully considered, and discussed in the next section below or within the following rejections are not deemed to be persuasive. Applicants' request for allowance is respectfully denied.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-15, and 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Steger (U.S. Patent No. 5,594,226).

Claims 1-15, and 18-20, Steger teaches a method and a corresponding system for processing a negotiable instrument, comprising the steps of entering at least one negotiable instrument identifier into a terminal, transmitting the at least one negotiable instrument identifier from the terminal to a host computer, receiving, at the terminal, a sign from the host computer, wherein the sign indicates an authorization status of the negotiable instrument, automatically printing a mark on a document using a printer in communication with the terminal, wherein the mark corresponds with the sign so as to indicate the authorization status of the negotiable instrument, wherein the mark indicates that the negotiable instrument is authorized for encashment or not authorized for encashment, and automatically printing processing instructions on the negotiable instrument if the sign indicates that the negotiable instrument is not authorized for encashment (abstract, figs. 1, 1a and 4, and column 3, line 45 thru column 6, line 33).

Steger teaches the step of printing a bar code on the document, and the use of an image scanner for scanning the negotiable instrument so as to obtain the at least one negotiable instrument identifier, and a bar code reader for reading the at least one negotiable instrument identifier from the negotiable instrument (column 3, line 45 thru column 6, line 33).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC ' 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent May not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 148 USPQ 459, that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or unobviousness.

7. Claims 16 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Steger (U.S. Patent No. 5,594,226).

Claims 16 and 17, Steger fails to teach the use of an optical reader and a magnetic ink reader for reading an identifier from the negotiable instrument.

Official Notice is taken that an optical reader and a magnetic ink reader are old and well known in the art.

It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the teachings of Steger to include an optical reader and a magnetic ink reader for reading an identifier from the negotiable instrument because, it greatly improves the efficiency of the system by providing an easier way of inputting data by using any of the above mentioned readers, and a user friendly system in performing remote accessing to banking information.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
